REASONS FOR FAITH

A Supporter of Judge Little Tell the Plain Truth.

A letter from F. J. Ryan of Mountain View, Olan, under date of January 30, bearing on the political situation in the Territory, was received in the last Kinaiu by a gentleman in town. Following are a few extracts taken therefrom:

"I note what you say about getting certain support for Judge Little. I cannot conceive of any reason why they (the Hawaiians) should hesitate to fall in line. If they ever had a friend who did more for them at a certain time, I would like to know who he is. They did not send him to Washington and what he did was because he thought it was fair and right, not a reward or hope of reward.

He was opposed by Hartwell, W. O. Smith, Armstrong and a host of others who infested Washington, seeking to have some restriction put upon the Hawaiian vote, and although he wanted to be appointed as one of the judges, he did not knock under to that gang when fighting was likely to knock himself out.

I do not know that all the Hawaiians can appreciate the situation as they have not had an opportunity to become familiar with politics from a national standpoint but it required a good deal of pluck and manhood for Little, single handed and alone, to attack the Cullom Commission and the horde of lobbyists sent to Washington, especially when President McKinley did not want too much of a row made at that time and when Little was seeking an appointment. Other men would have kept silent under the circumstances, even if the natives were discriminated against.

"His manly fight at Washington is the reason why I stand by him for Governor and for no other reason whatever. When a man proves faithful to the best interests of the common people at a time and under circumstances that clearly showed he was not doing so through any selfish motive but, on the other hand, showed that he put his own private interests aside to accomplish the greatest good for the greatest number, then I think the common people should use common sense by trying to place such a man in a position where he can do more good for them.

"The office of Governor is not as respectable, in my opinion, as that of Judge of the Circuit Court. Every one has a kick at the Governor and especially at the Governor of the Territory. The salary is not enough more to make any practical difference. I would feel that I was asking some sacrifice in asking Little to resign as judge to take the office of Governor. I am satisfied that Dole would prove to be a better Governor if it was not for the gang of cut-throats behind him which he has not the courage to disband.—Evening Bulletin

GOSSIP'S KNOCKER.

Editor Scott May Come to Hilo to Engage New Talent.

"Hilo Tattle by the Knocker" which has been running in serial form in Gossip, the spicy and readable weekly published at Honolulu with Frederick J. Scott at its editorial and managerial helm, may soon cease to gratify the appetites of those residents of the beautiful Crescent city, who delight in partaking of breezy tid bits of current comment concerning their neighbors and friends.

The genial "Scotty" whose journalistic course has thus far been one of peaceful calm, is about to strike his first "Kona." Gossip's editor is in dire distress, and in his darkest hour of trouble, he has taken up his trenchant pen, and sent forth a tear producing appeal to Hilo friends.

"Scotty" says: "I am afraid that my Hilo 'Knocker' is getting cold feet. She fears detection and I have perhaps received the last of her 'tattle' but am not sure. Have written her to continue until I can make some arrangement, for I would simply kill my 'Hilo' and drop 'tattle'. We will probably get one more letter anyway. She is simply a jewel."

Gossip's editor also continues: "I would go over to Hilo if the boats were running on a different schedule. Being absolutely alone and having to write every thing myself I cannot loose so much time." Editor Scott, however stoutly maintained a provoking silence regarding the identity of his fair correspondent, and the only hint dropped by him in his communication was in one very small line. "Scotty" closed by saying: "My correspondent is about forty—There! That is about all I will say."

And after all, it is a woman! Scotty himself hath said it. Fair and forty at that! Now just let that permeate through your think-tank!

From Puna to Hakalan live peaceful citizens upon whom rested a ten-ton burden of suspicion.

The editor of Gossip may come to Hilo. He wants to look into the individual qualifications of all applicants for the position of correspondent at this end of the line. That the editor will be besieged by an army of willing scribes goes without saying.

Who would attempt to fill the shoes of "The Knocker."

"An Abundance of Things" will be Mr. Cruzan's subject Sunday morning. In the evening he will speak on "George Washington."

L. M. Whitehouse has secured the contract for building eight and one half miles of railroad for the Puna Plantation Company. Mr. Whitehouse will have a force of men at work within a short time. The work will be pushed to completion as early as June, if possible.

New Legal Firm.

H. L. Ross of Iowa arrived in the city by the Kinaiu and will reside here engaging in the practice of law with Mr. Wise under the firm name of Wise & Ross. His arrival restores to a full working basis the legal firm broken up by the death of Johnson Nickens. Mr. Ross was graduated in law at the University of Iowa and has been a successful practitioner in the Circuit and Supreme courts of that State for some years. He arrived in Honolulu by the Sierra last Sunday and was admitted to practice in the Courts of the Territory on the presentation of his credentials the following day. The one endorsement he filed with his petition was a letter from Leslie M. Shaw, Secretary of the U. S. Treasury.

Mr. Ross is delighted with Hilo from a twenty-four hour's acquaintance and within a short time expects to be joined by Mrs. Ross whom he left behind, temporarily.

Primo Licenses Void.

Judge Morris M. Estee, in the United States District Court this week, declared the Territorial law under which Primo beer licenses are granted to be unconstitutional. He granted the injunction prayed for by the general liquor dealers against Treasurer Wright, restraining him from issuing any more such beer licenses.

Mr. Silliman noted exceptions to the decision and gave notice of an appeal.

FINANCIAL.

Some of the Late Big Deals in Hawaiian Business.

Berrey's semi-monthly circular for the current week contains the following: A feature of a fortnight's review of financial affairs is the petition filed by the agents of McChesney & Sons for the appointment of a receiver in the Kona Sugar Co. Bishop & Co. and the First American Savings and Trust Company are among the largest creditors. The former will name the receiver and advance sufficient money to carry on the plantation for a time at least. The company's liabilities include an overdraft with the agents of $189,826.00, first mortgage bonds amounting to $200,000.00 and some smaller debts aggregating in the neighborhood of $400,000.00. The sugar crop that will be harvested this season is estimated at some three to three thousand five hundred tons, and is worth about $200,000.00.

During the past two or three days there has been considerable money seeking investment in the nature of gilt-edged real estate loans. One or two large sums have been loaned at lower rates than have been prevailing for some time past. The German Savings and Loan Society of San Francisco has untied its purse strings, which will do more to help the tight money market. Among the large mortgages put on record last week in favor of the Society was one on the Progress Block for $5,000.00 and another on the Orpheum Block for $32,500.00. Messrs. Smith & Lewis are attorneys for the Society, while Henry Waterhouse & Co. are acting in the capacity of loan agents.

The little boom in Island sugar shares on the San Francisco market has subsided, according to latest reports. A strong San Francisco brokerage house writing by the "Sierra" predicts an advance in all stocks listed on the San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange after the first of March.

Maui Leaking.

The steamer Maui arrived from Kipahulu leaking, while about to get under way she struck on a rock at Kipahulu and was damaged to some extent.

The water she is making is easily controlled by the vessel's pumps and she will be placed on the marine railway as soon as possible so that the extent of her injuries may be determined and repairs made.

The vessel was not ashore as was reported but in the heavy swell which was running at Kipahulu was bumped on both sides, striking twice. Captain Bennett not knowing how badly his boat was injured decided to return to port and so did not discharge his freight for Kipahulu or Hamoa.—Evening Bulletin.
